

CHASE STONE BARN FARM HISTORY

From the Chase Stone Barn's website...

The story of the Stone Barn began in 1867 when Daniel Krause, Sr. and his family immigrated to the United States from Germany to settle in the Town of Chase. Settlement was happening rapidly as farmers sought newly-cleared farm land which was being sold dirt cheap.

In 1876 Daniel Krause, Jr. married and took over running his father's farm.

Daniel and his wife had nine children. They were a very hard working and innovative family which, in addition to farming, owned and operated a saw mill in nearby Sobieski and co-owned Krause and Krause Sales and Service; a farm implement dealership. They were also great hunters and loggers and made their own tasty maple syrup.

This was the first barn quilt block installed in Oconto County! The block was unveiled at the annual town picnic in June of 2013. This block was sponsored by the Mroczkowski family.
