JAGIELLO FARM

James Borkovec Sr. purchased the original 80 acres from the Oconto Company Corp. on July 5th, 1904. He sold the land to his son Frank Borkovec who homesteaded it on April 11, 1905.

Frank had a daughter named Mildred Borkovec Jagiello who was Ronald Jagiello's mother. Grandpa Frank sold the farm directly to Ronald and Sharon Jagiello on August 7, 1956. Improvements were made over the years, and more land was purchased.

Ron sold the farm to his sons David and Kevin Jagiello January 1, 2000. They operate under the name "Jagiello Farms and Trucking LLC", and still milk cows and do cash crops. James Borkovec Sr. was the two boy's great grandfather.

The barn quilt is displayed on the original barn build in 1920 and still in use. The family calls this block "Wheels" because it takes a lot of wheels to make the farm and trucking company a success.

The Jagiello family wishes to express their thanks to thank New View Industries and Ron and Tyler (the linemen from the Oconto Electric Cooperative who installed the quilt block) for their wonderful work. This block was installed in May 2015 by the Oconto Electric Cooperative.
