

KOSLOWSKY FARM

BARN QUILTS #54 and #55

Ken and Mary Koslowsky are the third generation of their family living on the farm. The original barn was a milking barn with hay stored in the upper level. It was then turned into a free stall for housing steers.

At this time, it's being used for storage. The family recently had their barn redone with red steel and ordered two quilt blocks, one for each end of the barn.

The barn was built in the 1930's and is located at 7281 County M in Coleman. Ken and Mary Koslowsky along with their children Jodie Bellow-Stokes (Husband-Jesse), James (Wife- Angela) and grandchildren Brady, Breanna, Bryce, Bailee, Lucas, and Ava celebrated their new pinwheel quilt squares (there's on each side of their barn)!

This quilt blocks were installed by the Oconto Electric Coop on May 31, 2017.
